SMOKE-FREE POLICY

1. Introduction and Scope

This Policy is to address smoking at work and to control exposure to environmental tobacco smoke whilst at work. This includes all types of manufactured cigarettes, hand-rolled cigarettes, pipes, cigars, herbal cigarettes and water pipes (including shisha, hookah and hubble-bubble pipes). This policy also prohibits the use of any type of electronic cigarette (including Vape e-cig) as detailed in Section 7. It complies with the smoke-free regulations which became law on 1 July 2007.

This legislation bans smoking in enclosed public places, workplaces and public and work vehicles. There is also a requirement to display 'No Smoking' signs in premises and vehicles. The legislation makes it an offence to smoke or, for those that control or manage premises and vehicles, fail to prevent smoking in smoke-free premises and vehicles. Penalties for breach of these various regulations are given in Section 3 (Definitions) of this policy.

2. Purpose

The University will comply fully with the Health Act 2006, Smoke-free \(Premises and Enforcement\) Regulations 2006 and other associated Regulations (see section 9, Legislation). The overarching aim of this Policy is to encourage a sensible approach to smoking and to accommodate the views of both smokers and non-smokers. However, it is recognised that smoking is detrimental to health and the University will encourage staff and students to cease smoking and prevent exposure to environmental cigarette smoke.

1. The Smoke-free Law

1.1 When did the Smoke-free law start?

The Health Act 2006 and associated regulations came into force on Sunday 1 July 2007.

1.2 Does the law just apply to cigarettes?

No, it covers all substances that a person can smoke. These include manufactured cigarettes, hand-rolled cigarettes, pipes, cigars, herbal cigarettes and water pipes (including shisha, hookah and hubble-bubble pipes).

At the University of Roehampton this also includes the use of all electronic cigarettes.

2.1 Which places must be smoke-free?

The smoke-free law applies to virtually all 'enclosed' and 'substantially enclosed' public places and workplaces. This includes both permanent structures and temporary ones such as tents and marquees.

Premises will be considered 'enclosed' if they have a ceiling or roof and (except for doors, windows or passageways) are wholly enclosed either on a permanent or temporary basis. The area of the opening does not include doors, windows or any other fittings that can be opened or shut.

No, the law is designed to protect smokers and non-smokers from second-hand smoke. Smoking will be permitted only in work vehicles that are for the sole use of the driver and are not used by anyone else for work, either as a driver or passenger.
