1. Introductory Statement

1.1 The death of a student of the University of Roehampton (hereafter “the University”) is a circumstance that shall be consistently managed in a manner appropriate to the circumstances. Those with specific roles as set out in this Procedure shall be supported, as well as any distress identified within the student community being appropriately responded to (a checklist of responsibilities can be found in Appendix 1).

1.2 The purpose of this Procedure is to:

- Set out responsibilities in the event of a student death;
- Ensure that the response to such an event is appropriate, timely and effective;
- Ensure that the University communicates effectively with the family and all public authorities involved in the incident;
- Ensure that the University acts in a supportive way to all involved, both internally and towards external organisations.

2. Principles

2.1 The University will act in a timely and sensitive manner and with respect and compassion. Consideration will be extended to those closely involved with the student or the incident leading to the death, including the family or next of kin, friends, fellow students and staff members.

2.2 The University will seek to collaborate and cooperate with external agencies to facilitate any investigations or administrative activities related to the death.

2.3 The University will show due regard to the sensitive nature of the death when managing information relating to the student and the incident. Any public statements made for or on behalf of the University will only be released after they have been checked for accuracy and approved by the Communications Office. Any staff involved in responding to the incident will always operate in line with the University’s duties as per the Data Protection Act 2018 and relevant Policies.

3. Scope of Procedure

3.1 This Procedure will apply to staff and to those students who were enrolled directly with the University of Roehampton and who were either studying with attendance, or through a distance learning programme. Institutions enrolling students on University of Roehampton programmes through a collaborative partnership will be expected to have their own local policies.

4. Responsibilities

4.1 Initial Disclosure

Any and all members of staff can be the initial point of contact for the University becoming aware of a student death. Such a disclosure can originate from family members of the deceased, discovery of the scene, police or other agencies. Upon such a disclosure, all staff are required to:

- Make a note of all information provided and details of the reporter / situation
- Contact the Security Desk on ext. 3333

- Maintain confidentiality and avoid unnecessary sharing of information

4.2 Director of Student Support Services (or their nominated deputy)

The Director of Student Support Services shall be responsible for the overall coordination of immediate activities concerning student deaths. These responsibilities include notifying:
