TESTIMONIAL:

“My journey really began after I graduated from Samara State University of Economics with a degree in Finance and Credit, and I travelled to London to take an IELTS preparation course. Being here for a month changed my views on life. To be honest, I think I got addicted to this city! Roehampton wasn't the only university I applied to, but the support of the staff during enrolment, great feedback from alumni and students, and a population that isn't too large – allowing for more personal communication with tutors and other members of staff – helped me to make up my mind.

I would describe the Roehampton experience as amazing, challenging, creative, positive... but I haven't slept much because I want to be everywhere, trying everything. If you have a chance to study in the UK, just do it. I have found so much help and support here that I'm looking forward to it becoming my home for the next year.”
