Research (PhD, PsychD)

I chose the University of Roehampton because I was looking for a course that places a strong emphasis on research. When I arrived, I was pleased to find learning facilities that were of a high standard and very modern. More importantly, perhaps, I was greeted by friendly people and a welcoming environment.

Alex Dabonor (Nigeria), MA Media, Culture and Identity

If you are looking for a first-class inclusive university in London, then I recommend Roehampton. I am hearing impaired and when I came to Roehampton British sign language was not my first language. With support from the School of Education (That even made additional arrangements for me to learn the British sign language), I managed to successfully complete my studies with near distinction.”

Samuel Frimpong Amoako (Ghana), MA Special Education Needs, Commonwealth Scholarship Winner

Accommodation

There are a wide variety of residences to choose from, both on campus and in central London. Some students prefer to be near to the University itself, while others like to live closer to central London with its many attractions. Whatever your preference, the Accommodation Office can help you to find the right place to live.

Living Off Campus

Spring Mews combines stylish ensuite rooms, a social atmosphere and a fantastic location in the heart of the city making it the perfect place to call 'home' while living in London.

Living On Campus

Accommodation fees vary for on campus halls, but are generally around £130 to £175 per week. The cost includes utilities bills and contents insurance. On top of accommodation costs, students are advised to have approximately £500 per month for living expenses such as food, travel, books etc. Check the website for more details of different halls and for virtual tours:
