

CREW: Guest Speakers Lunchtime (online) Seminars 2025-2026

Client Preferences in Psychological Therapies

Please scan the QR code to request your Teams invite (via your mobile's default email provider), or email zamanic@roehampton.ac.uk:

1

Professor Tomáš Řiháček, Ph.D.

Vice-dean for research and doctoral studies, Faculty of Social Studies, Masaryk University, Czech Republic.

Factor Structure: 5th December, 2025, 1-2pm

Tomas will be talking on factor structure of psychometric measures, including the C-NIP (Cooper & Norcross, 2016) across language versions - essential for students who are creating measures or scales! Tomas has authored 108 studies to date.

Professor John C. Norcross, Ph.D., ABPP.

Distinguished Professor of Psychology at the University of Scranton, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at SUNY Upstate Medical University

Personalizing Psychotherapy: Patient Preferences and Beyond.

2nd February, 2026. 1-2pm.

John will be bringing his insights from his many years of research in client preferences.

2

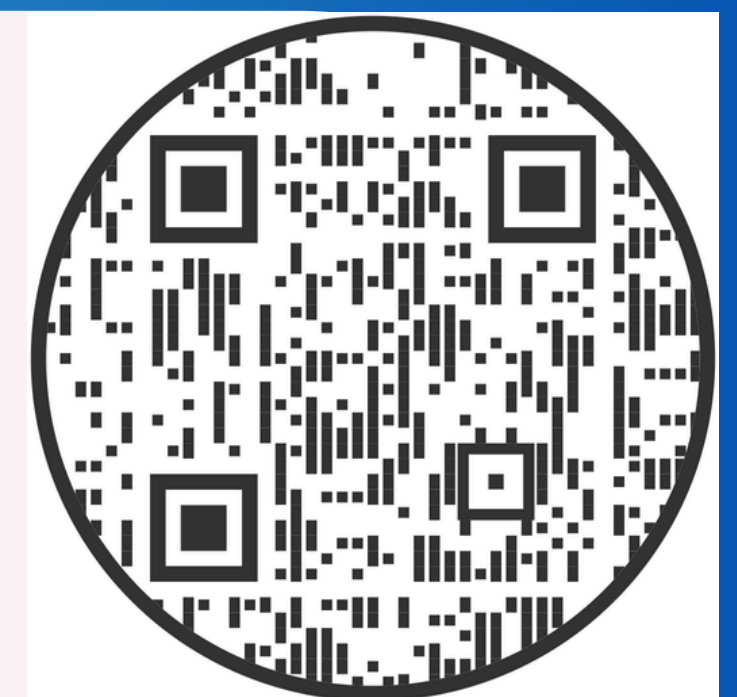

3

Professor Joshua Swift, Ph.D.

Professor, Clinical Psychology - Department Chair.
Idaho State University.

Client preferences: 20th April, 2026, 1-2pm.

Joshua's research focuses on psychotherapy processes and outcomes and relationship factors that contribute to successful treatment outcomes, through his work in the Psychotherapy Process and Outcome Research Lab at Idaho State University

Laura Jakalová, Ph.D., & Professor Tomáš Řiháček

Laura is a Ph. D. student attending Masaryk University, Czech Republic. Tomas, Vice-dean for research and doctoral studies, Faculty of Social Studies, is Laura's Director of Studies.

'Dispreferences': 1st June, 2026. 1-2pm.

CREW are delighted, at last, to be hosting Laura and her fascinating and novel study on 'Dispreferences'.

4