

The purpose of this module is to enable students to synthesise the knowledge, understanding and skills that they have learned during the course of the MA programme to produce an original piece of empirical research. This module requires that students independently design, conduct, analyse and write-up a research project in a specialist field, with the support of a supervisor. Students also must demonstrate an understanding of how their research findings advance criminological knowledge and what the limitations of their research are. This module is designed to equip students with the experience, skills and knowledge to undertake research projects in the workplace.